Department for Education: Working together to improve school attendance \(applies from 19 August 2024\) \(publishing.service.gov.uk\)

Nottinghamshire County Council: Improving School Attendance Toolkit | NCC School

The importance of school attendance

Improving attendance is everyone's business. The barriers to accessing education are wide and complex, both within and beyond the school gates, and are often specific to individual pupils and families. The foundation of securing good attendance is that school is a calm, orderly, safe, and supportive environment where all pupils want to be and are keen and ready to learn.

Some pupils find it harder than others to attend school and therefore at all stages of improving attendance, schools and partners should work with pupils and parents to remove any barriers to attendance by building strong and trusting relationships and working together to put the right support in place. Securing good attendance cannot therefore be seen in isolation - effective practices for improvement will involve close interaction with schools' efforts on curriculum, behaviour, bullying, special educational needs support, pastoral and mental health and wellbeing, and effective use of resources, including pupil premium. It cannot solely be the preserve of a single member of staff, or organisation, it must be a concerted effort across all teaching and non-teaching staff in school, the trust, the local governing body, the local authority, and other local partners.

The law on school attendance and right to a full-time education

The law entitles every child of compulsory school age to a full-time education suitable to their age and any special educational need they may have. It is the legal responsibility of every parent to make sure their child receives that education either by attendance at a school or by education otherwise than at a school.

Where parents decide to have their child registered at school, they have an additional legal duty to ensure their child attends that school regularly. This means their child must attend every day that the school is open, except in a small number of allowable circumstances such as being too ill to attend or being given permission from the school for an absence in advance.

Working together to improve attendance

Successfully treating the root causes of absence and removing barriers to attendance requires schools and local partners to work collaboratively with families - and not against families. All partners should work together to:

Monitor

Rigorously use attendance data to identify patterns of poor attendance as soon as possible so all parties can work together to resolve them before they become entrenched.

Expect

Aspire to high standards of attendance from all pupils and parents and build a culture where all pupils can, and want to, be in school and ready to learn by prioritising attendance improvement across the school.

Listen & understand

When a pattern is spotted, discuss with pupils and parents to listen and understand barriers to attendance, and agree how all partners can work together to resolve them.

Facilitate support

Remove barriers in school and help pupils and parents to access the support they need to overcome the barriers outside of school. This might include an early help or whole family plan where absence is a symptom of wider issues.

Formalise support

Where absence persists and voluntary support is not working or engaged with, the school and partners should work together to explain the consequences clearly and ensure support is also in place to enable families to respond. Depending on the circumstances, this may include formalising support through an attendance contract or education supervision order.

Enforce

Where all other avenues have been exhausted and support is not working, or not being engaged with, enforce attendance through statutory intervention: a penalty notice in line with the National Framework or prosecution to protect the pupil's right to an education.

Expectations of schools

All schools have a continuing responsibility to proactively manage and improve attendance across their school community. Attendance is the essential foundation to positive outcomes for all pupils and is therefore seen as everyone's responsibility in school.

Schools will:

- Develop and maintain a whole school culture that promotes the benefits of high attendance
- Have a clear school attendance policy which all leaders, staff, pupils, and parents understand
- Accurately complete admission and attendance registers and have effective day to day processes in place to follow-up absence
- Regularly analyse attendance and absence data to identify pupils or cohorts that require support with their attendance and put effective strategies in place
- Build strong relationships with families, listen to and understand barriers to attendance and work with families to remove them
- Share information and work collaboratively with other schools in the area, local authorities and other partners when absence is at risk of becoming persistent or severe
- Be particularly mindful of pupils absent from school due to mental or physical ill health or their special educational needs and/or disabilities and provide them with additional support.

Expectations upon the trust boards and locally governing bodies

Improving attendance requires constant focus. Effective whole school approaches require regular ongoing support, guidance, and challenge. The expectation upon the Trust and local governing bodies is to:

- Recognise the importance of school attendance and promote it across the school's ethos and policies
- Ensure school leaders fulfil expectations and statutory duties
- Regularly review attendance data, discuss, and challenge trends, and help school leaders focus improvement efforts on the individual pupils or cohorts who need it most
- Ensure school staff receive adequate training on attendance
- Share effective practice on attendance management and improvement across schools

Expectations of local authorities

The local authority has a crucial role in supporting pupils to overcome barriers to good attendance and ensuring all children can access the full-time education to which they are entitled. Local authorities are facilitators of wider support needed by individual families and schools to overcome barriers in the short term. They are also strategic leaders that work across a geographical area to remove barriers in the longer term. The expectation upon the local authority is to:

- Rigorously track local attendance data to devise a strategic approach to attendance that prioritises the pupils, pupil cohorts and schools on which to provide support to, and focus its efforts to unblock area wide barriers to attendance
- Provide a School Attendance Support Team that offers the following:
 1. Communication & advice
 2. Targeting support meetings
 3. Multi-disciplinary support for families
 4. Legal intervention
- Monitor and improve the attendance of children with a social worker through their Virtual School Head

Persistent and severe absence

Where absence escalates and pupils miss 10% or more of school, working alongside the local authority, schools will put additional targeted support in place to remove any barriers to attendance and re-engage these pupils. In doing so, schools should sensitively consider some of the reasons for absence and understand the importance of school as a place of safety and support for children who might be facing difficulties, rather than reaching immediately for punitive approaches.

Severely absent pupils are those that are missing 50% or more of school. Particular focus should be given by all schools and partners to prioritise these pupils for support.

Attendance legal intervention

As absence is so often a symptom of wider issues a family is facing, schools, the Trust and the local authority will work together with other local partners to understand the barriers to attendance and provide support. Where that is not successful, or is not engaged with, the law protects pupils' right to an education and provides a range of legal interventions to formalise attendance improvement efforts, and where all other avenues have been exhausted, enforce it through prosecuting parents. Attendance legal intervention can only be used for pupils of compulsory school age and decisions should be made on an individual case by case basis.

The full range of legal interventions are to be considered when making decisions on an individual case by case basis. These are:

- Attendance contract
- Education supervision orders
- Attendance prosecution
- Fixed penalty notices

Contents of the admissions register ('the school roll')

The school admission register, sometimes known as the 'the school roll', must be kept in accordance with regulation 8 of the School Attendance (Pupil Registration) (England) Regulations 2024.

It is vital that the admission register is kept up to date. Schools should encourage parents to inform them of any changes whenever they occur and ensure the admission register is amended as soon as possible. Changes could include pupils with a new address and/or school.

A pupil's name can only be deleted from the admission register for a reason set out in regulation 9 of the School Attendance (Pupil Registration) (England) Regulations 2024. A pupil's name must not be removed for any other reason and doing so would constitute off-rolling.

Contents of the attendance register

All schools must keep an attendance register in accordance with regulation 8 of the School Attendance (Pupil Registration) (England) Regulations 2024.

Schools must take the attendance register at the beginning of each morning session and once during each afternoon session. On each occasion the register is taken, the appropriate national attendance and absence code must be entered for every pupil. The codes are set out in regulation 10 of the School Attendance (Pupil Registration) (England) Regulations 2024.

The national attendance and absence codes are used to record and monitor attendance and absence in a consistent way and are used to collect statistics through the School Census system. This data helps schools and the Trust to gain a greater understanding of the level of, and the reason for, absence and the delivery of education.

Roles and responsibilities

All members of the school community have roles and responsibilities in promoting and ensuring good attendance and punctuality. Please read the following tables and appendices to see the detail of these and actions taken in relation to them.
